Sometime in April this year the L-200 was knocked out. All the guys who sat there are fine, I have a video of how it happened, but it is too large, maybe I'll google a little extra hard on how to post it in the comments.

It was one of the three pickups I bought with your help here and sent to the guys in Ukraine. The workhorse lasted almost 3 years, which is extremely good in those conditions, definitely worth the time and money we spent to send it.

This means that only one out of those 3 pickups is operational right now and feels like it is time to collect for another ride. At the moment I have 1000 euro to spend on a car and would appreciate help, even a few euro/kronor/bitcoins would make me feel even more like summer. The goal is to collect about 2,5-3000 euros on top of what I have. 🇺🇦

Thanks!
